

Safety Tools For Real Estate Professionals

Recommended by “Tracey, the Safety Lady”

Being equipped with the right safety tools can provide real estate professionals with that much needed peace of mind. However, self-defense tools are not one size fits all. Everyone has a different comfort level when it comes to choosing the safety tool they would use during an emergency.

Below you will find a list of different safety tools provided by REALTOR® safety product expert “Tracey, the Safety Lady”.

Pepper Spray

Pepper Spray is the most popular self-defense tool used by REALTORS® in North America. It can be an effective non-lethal tool that will stun and temporarily neutralize your attacker when you feel your safety is being compromised.

Websites such as SafetyandSecuritySource.com are great if you want to purchase pepper spray in the recognizable case or pepper spray that is camouflaged as everyday items:

- Key Ring Pepper Spray Case
- Pen Pepper Spray
- Pager Pepper Spray

Be sure to check your State’s rules and regulations regarding the use of pepper-spray prior to purchasing it!

Auto Safety Tools

Car safety tools can be a lifesaver as REALTORS® spend the majority of their time driving to and from properties. Below are two original safety tools you can carry in your vehicle:

- Auto Escape Tool: All-in-one safety tool with a flashlight, tire gauge and alarm, that allows you to cut your seatbelt and shatter your windows if you are ever stuck in your car after an accident.
- “Call Police” Sign: Allows you to call for help if you ever need the assistance of those who are around you, when you cannot call out for help.

Home Safety Tools

Safety and Security Source offers useful safety products that can be used while you are hosting an open house or selling a vacant property:

- Door Stop Alarm: Alarm sounds when someone tries to enter the door, place it on entrance/exit doors to avoid unwanted visitors.
- Magnetic Window/Door Alarm: Sounds an alarm if a window/door is opened, great for vacant properties or while showing open houses.

About “Tracey, The Safety Lady”

Tracey Hawkins is a former real estate agent who has been a safety product expert since 1995. She offers realistic safety and security expertise to real estate professionals and REALTOR® associations across North America.

Be sure to join the REALTOR® safety conversation over at Tracey’s LinkedIn group: “Real Estate Agent Safety Forum”!

For more information about “Tracey, the Safety Lady”, and her products, be sure to visit www.safetyandsecuritysource.com!

